Following is a summary of Miss Brickman's speech:

- (1) Liss Brickman's introductory remarks were of praise for the brave struggle of the Soviet and Czech students during the second world war.
- (2) From this she launched into the establishment of the International Students' Union, which she stated is a symbol of the continuous struggle for peace and democracy by all young students.
- (3) At present in most advanced countries, such as the U.S.S.R., every student has an opportunity to pursue without interruption his studies and to contribute to mankind the benefits of his knowledge.
- (4) At the same time the United States, a strong imperialistic power, is attempting to use abundant money and weapons to create disturbances and enslave mankind. England is in danger, but China and Greece are dangerously menaced.
- (5) This fact is amply supported by the policy of the United States in Japan and the support the United States gives to the tyrannical government of China. The policy of the United States is oppressive and harmful to the peace and liberty-loving people of the world.
- (6) Miss Brickman concluded her remarks by calling on the Chinese students to unite and abolish the cirty plot of American imperialism. Victory shall be yours."
